Student Spotlight: Celebrating Alumni Achievements

Today, we take time to highlight the impressive journeys of two NHCSB alumni, Deborah Ashiedu and Georlinda Jean, who are currently pursuing their higher education and career aspirations.

Deborah Ashiedu: A Journey of Resilience and Research

Deborah Ashiedu, a proud 2021 graduate of NHCSB, recently earned her Bachelor of Science in Biology from Bridgewater State University in 2025. Driven by a profound curiosity about disease and a commitment to advancing healthcare through research, Deborah is now pursuing her Master's in Biology.

Her transition to college demanded significant resilience, self-advocacy, and a delicate balance, particularly as she supported her family through part-time work. Deborah successfully navigated these challenges by maintaining strong organizational skills and an unwavering focus on her long-term goals.

New Heights Charter School of Brockton played a crucial role in her preparation, providing college-level coursework and fostering a culture of high expectations. She specifically credits her former teacher, Mr. Elias, for inspiring her to "think bigger" and believe in her own potential.

Deborah's ultimate career ambition is to become a Nurse Practitioner or Physician Assistant, with the long-term goal of opening her own practice. Like Geo, she was a recipient of the prestigious Dream Chasers Scholarship. This scholarship not only alleviated financial burdens but also served as a powerful reminder of the support she has had on her educational and professional journey.

Congratulations, Deborah, on your successful academic and professional journey. You make us all proud,

Georlinda Jean: Global Aspirations in Healthcare

Georlinda (Geo) Jean, a dedicated full-time student, is an alumna of New Heights Charter School of Brockton, graduating in 2024. She earned her Associate Degree in Liberal Arts Studies from Massasoit Community College in 2024 and is currently pursuing a Bachelor's Degree in Health Science at Northeastern University, with an expected graduation in May 2027. Geo is steadfast in her aspiration to become a Physician Assistant.

Despite a challenging initial year, Geo's perseverance shone through as she earned a place on the Dean's List and was inducted into the honors society. She attributes these achievements to her determination during what she describes as the most demanding semesters of her college experience.

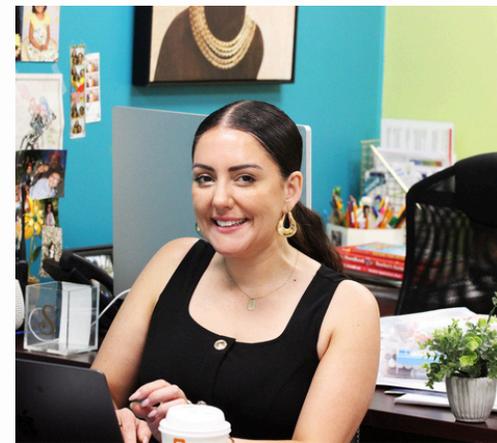

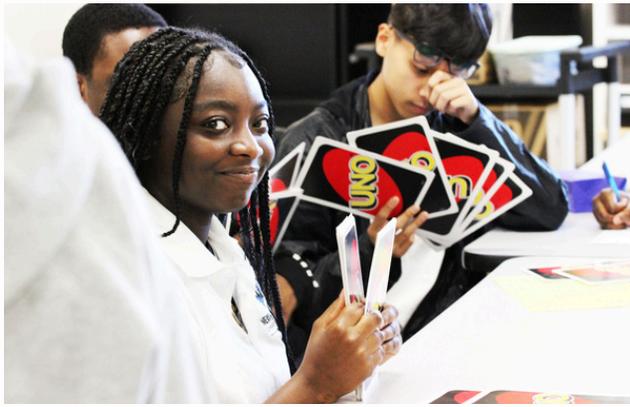

Geo's commitment to her field is further exemplified by her recent acceptance into Northeastern's highly competitive Dialogue of Civilizations study abroad program. As one of only approximately 20 students selected, she will travel to South Korea in July to immerse herself in the country's healthcare system.

The Dream Chasers Scholarship, generously donated by an alumni member, has been instrumental in funding her study abroad experience. Geo expresses profound gratitude for this invaluable opportunity, eager to gain global insights into healthcare while continuing to grow personally and professionally.

Congratulations, Georlinda, on your incredible academic journey, which has taken you to Northeastern University. You are an inspiration to all of your fellow alumni!
